Gina Popp Attends APCIA Emerging Leaders Conference

Conference recognizes rising stars in the insurance field

FOND DU LAC, Wis. (February 9, 2024) — Gina Popp of Society Insurance has been honored by the American Property Casualty Insurance Association (APCIA) as an emerging industry leader. Popp joined a select group of property and casualty insurance professionals at the 2024 Emerging Leaders Conference on February 4-6 in San Antonio, TX.

The conference, co-hosted by the Insurance Careers Movement (ICM) and AM Best during February Insurance Careers Month, provides insights on executive leadership, facilitates networking and promotes professional and personal development.

"It was an honor to be surrounded by such a talented group of insurance professionals," said Popp, who serves as Society's director of information technology delivery. "This was a great opportunity to recognize the contributions these individuals are making not only at their companies and within the industry, but also in the communities they serve. The future of insurance and technology looks brighter than ever with so many thought leaders truly working to make a difference."
